County Red Cross to Assist National Influenza Immunization

[By Harrison Goodhue]

At the Annual Meeting of Crawford County Chapter of American National Red Cross, held on July 29th at the Chief Shoppenagons Motor Hotel, Harrison Goodhue, Chairman-Treasurer, on the authority of Mrs. Beverly Wagoner of Cadillac, Coordinator of the Immunization Program for our seven county State Health Office, and with the cooperation of Mrs. Myrtle McPhail, head of our county's State Health Department, released the first information about immunization of local citizens against the expected influenza outbreak.

The current plans, although tentative and subject to revision, call for inoculation of High Risk individuals by their personal physicians in September. High Risk persons are those 60 years or older, pregnant women, and people with respiratory problems such as asthma, emphysema, etc.

The Federal Government will furnish the vaccine, a combination of A/New Jersey type and A/Victoria type, without charge, but because an individual's personal physician's approval is considered vital, it was decided to conduct the High Risk inoculations through local doctors.

Incidentally, the term "Swine Flu" is being discouraged as a descriptive designation. Apparently there is a flu strain which affects hogs, and thereby sometimes affects farm workers, but the flu strain occasioning the Nation's concern was first discovered with the death of a young soldier in February 1976 at Fort Dix, New Jersey, and is considered to be a mutation of the influenza virus which caused the devastating pandemic of 1918 which caused 20,000,000 deaths world wide, and has been labelled type "A/New Jersey".

The type "A/Victoria" has been similarly labelled after the province of Victoria in Australia where that type of influenza virus was first discovered.

Immunization of individuals between 25 and 60 years of age is planned to be conducted on a mass clinic basis in the County, using A/New Jersey type vaccine injected through the skin with [See Red Cross on page 16]

Tax Tribunal Dismisses County Petition

[By B. J. Fowler, Grayling Twp. Supervisor]

On Thursday, July 28th, a preliminary hearing was held before the State Tax Tribunal in Lansing on a petition filed by the townships in Crawford County excluding South Branch. This petition was protesting the equalization values as determined by the County Board of Commissioners for the year 1976. I believe the case was unique in the fact we were actually in the position of protesting work done by the State Tax Commission and accepted by the County Commission. Nelson Miles, Attorney at Law, and myself represented the townships. Robert A. Hess, Attorney at Law, and Larry Hunter, County Equalization Director represented the county. In addition County Commissioners Kaufman, Lowrie and Failing attended.

After a lengthy hearing, which lasted from 1:30 p.m. until after 5:30 p.m., and which was supposedly a preliminary hearing only, the petition was dismissed by the Tribunal because of procedural defects in filing the petitions.

From the townships side we were able to point out the main defects in the procedures used by the State Tax Commission, the County Board of Commissioners and the County Equalization Department. The chairman of the Tribunal indicated they were in sympathy with the townships cause but did not feel there was enough justification to overturn the county equalization. The petition was dismissed largely because the separate

AuSable Clean-Up Continues

RIVER CLEAN-UP—Who said "the AuSable River pollution problem is under control?" Shown above is Tim Mason with 5 55-gallon bags of garbage taken from Thendara to Stephan Bridge. That is 40 minutes floating time.

In last week's edition, we informed the general public of our intended "AuSable River Clean-Up Program." Since this really is a community program, we have contacted numerous businesses in regards to contributing. At this point, some have been quick to respond, while others seem hesitant or reluctant to support this program.

The simple fact of the matter is this. From Burtons to Stephens, at least one 55 gallon bag of garbage was picked up from the river every ten minutes floating time. From Burtons to Stephens is 1 1/2 hours. That means we removed over nine 55 gallon bags of trash from the beautiful AuSable.

Not only are we serving businesses by removing trash from the AuSable, but we are also providing jobs for young people that haven't been fortunate enough to find work this summer.

Between necessary materials, food, wages, insurance and mileage we simply must raise some money to do an effective, continuous job on the AuSable, from Grayling to McMasters Bridge.

Ray's Canteen Livery has been instrumental in our program, but it isn't fair to think Al Westervelt can do it all. Please do your part — if you care: Crawford County Youth Services, Crawford County Courthouse, Grayling, MI. 49738.

Send a check and we'll let the community know that you care about keeping the AuSable clean. Thank You.

Robert Smock, Youth Services Director

Junked Cars?

Do you have a junked automobile that you'd like to get rid of "free of charge"? Wednesday, August 4, through Friday, August 6, the 538th Transportation Battalion of the Indiana National Guard will be picking up junk automobiles in the Grayling area. If you have a junked auto which you want to get rid of free of charge, call Camp Grayling - 348-7621, Extension 516 or 517 and ask for SMASH Operator. Upon receipt of your call, a wrecker will be dispatched to pick up the vehicle.

WARNING

Annual Training will be conducted by units of the Army and Air National Guard and Army Reserve during the period 4 thru 27 August 1976. The various ranges located at Camp Grayling will be utilized during this period.

These ranges will be closed during the above dates and all persons are warned to stay out of these areas.

Dismiss Suit Against Local Officials

On Tuesday, July 27, attorneys for the UAW moved for dismissal of their suit against District Judge Francis L. Walsh, Prosecuting Attorney John B. Huss, Sheriff Harold Hatfield, and City Police Chief Peter Stephan, in Crawford County Circuit Court.

Judge William A. Porter granted the motion to dismiss after attorneys for all concerned agreed in chambers that the statute MCLA 750.352 which provides: "Any person who shall, by threats, intimidations, or otherwise, and without authority of law, interfere with, or in any way molest, or attempt to interfere with, or in any way molest or disturb, without such authority, any person, in the quiet and peaceable pursuit of his lawful occupation, vocation or avocation, or on the way to and from such occupation, vocation or avocation, or who shall aid or abet in any such unlawful act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor" had never been declared unconstitutional and was still a valid Michigan law.

The UAW attorneys agreed to pursue each case on an individual basis in District Court by filing appropriate motions and demanding trials.

Prosecuting Attorney, John B. Huss stated that he would continue to carefully review each and every complaint before issuing warrants under the contested statute.

Steele Resigns As Chamber Manager

Mike Steele, Executive Manager of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce since June 1975, has submitted his resignation effective August 27, according to Chamber President Paul Thompson. Steele will be leaving to accept the position as Executive Director of the Greater Lapeer Chamber of Commerce in Lapeer, Michigan on September 1, 1976.

In a letter of resignation to the Board of Directors, Steele thanked them and the community for their support and indicated that an effort to maintain a strong and effective chamber should be made. Mike cited career considerations as the major factor in his decision to accept the Lapeer post.

Potential candidates for the vacancy are being contacted through the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce. Candidates with chamber experience will be interviewed in the very near future according to Thompson and a new manager will be hired as soon as possible. Steele will be working with the new manager to ease the transition and brief him on the community, the job and its responsibilities.

38th Inf. Division in Training

[Special to The Avalanche]

CAMP GRAYLING — Indiana and Michigan Guardsmen of the 38th Infantry Division are undergoing intensive readiness training during their annual two-week period of active duty.

The citizen-soldiers, who began arriving at Camp Grayling late last week, will emphasize the polishing of proficiency of small units in situations designed to simulate actual combat conditions. Their training is diverse, because the combat challenges of the modern battlefield are varied. In addition to the basic combat skills of marksmanship, movement and communication, Guardsmen are perfecting their skills with specialized training in airborne operations, anti-armor techniques and assault river crossings.

About 10,000 Guardsmen are on hand, with about 8,000 from Indiana and 2,000 from Michigan's 46th Brigade. Their numbers are bolstered by three Army Reserve units which have been attached to the division for training: 259th Military Intelligence Company, 524th ASA Company and 427th Chemical Detachment. Also supporting the training exercises are weathermen from the Indiana Air National Guard's 207th Weather Flight.

On Wednesday, Grayling area civic leaders joined with the 38th Division for the annual Civic Day observance, designed to acquaint the civilian community with the missions and functions of the division.

Friday, at 4 p.m., Grayling area residents are invited to join with Guard personnel for the division's annual review on the parade field near Lake Margrethe. Distinguished guests for the event will include Indiana Governor Otis R. Bowen, who is leading a delegation of governor leaders from the Hoosier state.

Military officials who have visited Camp Grayling during the 38th's initial week of training included Maj. Gen. C. R. Sniffen, operations director, Deputy Chief of Staff for Operations, Headquarters, Department of the Army, and Maj. Gen. William Mundie, commanding general of Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana.

Kent, Hatfield, Hunter Receive Primary Nod

With three prime races for Crawford County offices, two on the Republican side and one on the Democratic side, voters here still showed apathy, as only about 30% of the registered showed at the polls Tuesday in beautiful summer weather.

In the two Republican races for the offices of Prosecuting Attorney and Sheriff, voters carried the outcome right down to the wire, when Beaver Creek Township proved the deciding factor, with Thomas Kent defeating incumbent John B. Huss for the Prosecutors post, 867 to 853.

For the Sheriff nomination, incumbent Harold Hatfield fought off the challenge of Arthur Clough with an 873 to 859 advantage.

Curtis Haas, unopposed Democrat for the Sheriff's office received 678 votes, and will oppose Hatfield in November.

For the Democratic nomination for Register of Deeds, incumbent Lawrence Hunter turned back Robert C. Smock, Sr., 458 to 284, and will meet Republican Glenn E. Sawyer, who garnered 1216 votes in the general election.

In the only two contested seats for Board of Commissioners, in District One, Edwin C. Martindale, Jr., defeated Ralph G. Patterson, 124 to 69, while in District Three, Mary Elaine Harland took the nod over Leo Cavanaugh, 134 to 94, and will meet Democrat, Doug Antcliffe in November.

On the state level, Crawford County voters gave incumbent Representative Ralph Ostling a near 2 to 1 edge over Richard Friske, 1041 to 590, while Dean L. Welch defeated William Brauker, 377 to 289 on the Democratic side for the 103rd District.

Due to limited time and space in this issue for other contested offices throughout the county, the Avalanche will carry the complete state, county and township election results and the lineup for the November general election in next week's issue.

The above tallies are unofficial, subject to the Board of Canvassers statement.

Michigan National Guard Soldier of the Year Award

Pt. Huron Wins
Barbershop Competition

The first annual "Milltown Festival of Harmony" was held Saturday evening, July 31, at the Joseph Stripe Auditorium. A standing room only crowd enjoyed a fun filled evening that began with a barbershop chorus competition, moved on to a most enjoyable performance by the area quartet "The Graylords" and finished with the antics of the show stopping Bay City area quartet, "The Sound Objective".

M.C. Bill Doelzel of Bay City kept things moving smoothly, with a mix of good barbershop information, announcements, and jokes that bordered on the corny side at times.

The Port Huron chorus entry took home the "Pole Dog Award" as the winning competitor, with Alpena and the local "AuSable Valley Chapter" completing the top three.

Judges were John Nowak, Grayling; "Cap" MacLean, Cedarville; and Robert Tracy, Mackinaw City.

The afterglow at "Aumans House of Catering" capped off the evening with a dandy buffet, performances by 5 quartets, several choruses, and group singing.

Milltown
Festival
A Success

By Michael Steele
Chamber Manager

The 3rd Annual Milltown Festival held this past weekend was a tremendous success according to Festival President Wayne Hindmarsh. It had more events, drew more spectators, and provided more entertainment than any past year.

The Festival began on Thursday night with the Milltown Dinner-Dance at Auman's House of Catering. About 200 people attended the ADWA sponsored event and thoroughly enjoyed the roast beef dinner and live entertainment. The only people who didn't have a good time were those who were not there.

"You're a Good Man Charlie Brown" and "The Lion Who Lost Its Roar", the kids' theatre productions directed by Community School Director, Howard Taylor were smashing successes and drew rave reviews from audiences. The performers were polished and the plays were well attended. Friday's performance featured a pre-play program by Grayling's Senior Citizens Kitchen Band.

The kid's events during the Milltown Festival were generally very well attended and the children seemed to thoroughly enjoy them. A bike rodeo, balloon blowing contest, canoe sprints, canoe jousting, ugliest dog, and bubble gum blowing contests were some of the activities scheduled for kid's entertainment.

In the Kid's Fly Casting Contest 1st place was won by Frank Blaauw, 2nd by Vern Westerveldt, and 3rd by Jim Kitchen. This event was sponsored by the George Mason Chapter of Trout Unlimited.

In a close contest the Democrats won the Republican-Democrat Tug of War across the AuSable. Each side was composed of local candidates and partisans at large. Non-partisan candidates for Probate Judge, Emil Kraus and David Sabin officiated the event.

The Milltown Parade was the best ever, with almost 40 entries. The Mayor's Cup (for best entry) was awarded to the Holiday Inn Float, which was built by H.I. employees and utilized over 700 man hours in production.

A packed house saw 7 choruses from throughout the state compete for awards during the Milltown Festival of Harmony. 1st place winners were Port Huron. The Festival of Harmony was sponsored by the AuSable Chapter of SPEBSQSA and was enjoyed by all in attendance.

Another colorful aspect of this year's Milltown Festival was the presence of Grayling's finest... the Milltown Maverick Police Department. This group of dedicated professional enforcers made certain that all loyal citizens had purchased and were properly wearing the official Milltown Festival Button of Character. Headed by Frank Nichols and Bob Smock, the Milltown Maverick Police Department vowed to return again next year to insure the honesty, integrity, and humility of all citizens.

Beer Belly, Cigar Smoking, Chain Sawing, Log Chopping, and Cross Cut Sawing Contests added to the success of the Festival. A Road Rally, Softball Tournament, and Raffle Race provided additional color. As a fitting close to this year's Milltown Festival, the Milltown Night of Lights Regatta wrapped up the festivities. Over 45 boats of all shapes and sizes were involved; many were very brightly lit and several featured American flags and even a giant Statue of Liberty.

Plans for next year's festival will be begun in the near future according to Festival President Wayne Hindmarsh. Anyone with ideas, and energy is asked to assist. Manpower shortages were the most serious problems facing this year's festival. People interested in assisting are asked to contact the Chamber office for meeting details. The Milltown Festival is planned and promoted by the Grayling Area Festivals Committee and the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce.

From Our Corner...

The traumatic experience of your country editor this past weekend... assures one and all, we are going to remain country... anyone who wants the city are welcome to it, with our blessings.

No way will we return to the jungle.

Our weekend in the Flint area had only a couple happy moments... the most important was the witness of the wedding of our niece, Dana.

Being a country boy we were lost more than we were found... we took a scenic tour twice of (I think downtown Flint) trying to get from the nuptial in north Flint to the nipping in South Flint.

In desperation during our final drive, and ending up in a residential district when we should have been by a Chevrolet plant, we met a Flint police car... we were most happy to find they ride in pairs, the driver, mind you couldn't answer my frantic questions, but, his partner that rides shotgun at least got me close enough to a street where I wound up making a U-turn (not authorized) and only being 2 hours late for the nipping.

If you think that's the end no way — we dropped in to see our niece Linda and family in Mt. Morris, before heading north on Sunday to Bay City where we stopped — only because one of our passengers promised she would make sure we did not experience our previous day's dilemma.

Not so — we even got lost trying to get out of Bay City, and were ultimately confused trying to get on I-75 at Standish.

But then, it was not all that bad, our only suggestion is not go it alone with 3 women... have a co-pilot like the cop in Flint had.

We mentioned above there were a couple happy moments — the second was arriving back to our motel in Clio Saturday night and having a late snack of country fried chicken, and knowing we didn't have to drive no more.

Have a nice weekend... we are — knowing we're back north.

Axel Michelson arrived home from Monroe, La., Sunday. He will stay long enough to get cool, after the extreme heat of that climate.

"We can help take the unsurety out of getting a surety bond."

"If you've been looking around for a Surety Bond, you've probably already discovered there's often a lot of 'legalese' and a mile of red tape to wade through.

"Not here. We issue Auto-Owners Surety Bonds. Their 'postcard application forms' are so unique, they're patented. And many bonds can be issued on the spot, during your office visit.

"To take the uncertainty out of Surety Bonds, come see us."

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

The Great "I Am" God

God uses many different names in the Old Testament to describe His various attributes and characteristics. "Jehovah" is one such Old Testament name for God. "Jehovah" is a translated word which comes from the original Hebrew word "Yahweh". The word "Yahweh" is derived from the statement "I Am that I Am" in Exodus 3:11-16. The translators not only translated "Yahweh" as "Jehovah" but also "The Lord". Therefore, "Yahweh", "I Am", "Jehovah" and "Lord" all speak of the very same name for God. Jesus Christ claimed this same "I Am" name in John 8:58 when he said, "...Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am." Jesus Christ never spoke as a created being saying before Abraham was, I was. Instead, He spoke as an eternal being saying "Before Abraham was, I am." This makes it very clear why the unbelieving Jews to whom He was speaking tried to kill Him in the very next verse. "Then took they up stones to cast at him; but Jesus hid himself, and went out of the temple..." John 8:59.

When the soldiers approached Jesus to take Him prisoner before His trial and death, He identified Himself as "I Am", John 18:5. "As soon then as he had said unto them, I Am, they went backward, and fell to the ground." John 18:6. Omit the word "he" in italics from verses 5, 6, and 8 of John 18 and the entire passage makes sense. (All words in italics were added by the translators for clarity, they are not inspired of God.) When Jesus Christ identified Himself as the great "I Am", even the soldiers went backward, and fell to the ground.

Concerning the last days Jesus said, "For many will come in My name, saying, I Am; and shall deceive many." Mark 13:6. Jesus Christ identified His name as "I Am" and therefore as "Yahweh" - "Jehovah" and "Lord".

Why are we making all this stress upon the name of Jesus Christ? Because as Peter said in Acts 4:12: "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." Peter was repeating the clear teaching of His Lord, "I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I Am, ye shall die in your sins." John 8:24. Any person who denies that Jesus Christ is the great "I Am", "Yahweh", "Jehovah" and the "Lord" of the Bible shall die in his sins and miss all the eternal provisions of salvation. (adv.)

Welcome! National Guardsmen

The Grayling High School Language Laboratory

THE CLASS OF 1977 HAS BEEN CANCELLED

Due to the budget squeeze caused by the recent millage loss, Grayling students will only be able to attend school 2½ hours per day during the coming year. There will only be 29 teachers for 2200 students. There will be no school lunches, no school buses, no extracurricular activities. According to State Law, our Grayling students may not attend enough school next year to graduate. We know these facts sound ridiculous, but that is exactly what will happen if you don't vote "YES". Your kids need your vote.

VOTE "YES" ON SCHOOL MILLAGE AUGUST 16

This is NOT an increase, simply a renewal of operating millage that has expired.

Paid for by The Committee to Renew the millage - Lorna Morse, Chairman - Kevin Sloan, Treasurer

Bits O' Talk

by Fay Bovee

Nancy Burns of Las Cruces, N. Mex. arrived July 22 to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burns. The previous day her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Burns of Ashland, Wis., arrived to spend several days visiting his parents and other friends and relatives. The Burns left Sunday for home and Nancy left Wednesday for Lansing to visit before returning to New Mexico on August 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carlson, Amber and Corlynn Meech recently spent 9 days in South Dakota, Montana, and Wyoming. They returned through N. Dakota and the Upper Peninsula.

Overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carlson were his sister, Mrs. Kathryn Pastor, of Battle Creek, and Mrs. Pastor's granddaughter, Kathy Bussell, of Jackson. Also visiting were Capt. Raymond Pastor and sons, Scott and David, of Sawyer AFB Marquette. They accompanied their grandmother back to Battle Creek to spend two weeks with her at the Gull Lake Bible conference.

The Arthur Carlsons drove to Harbor Springs on July 21 after hearing of the motorcycle accident in which their son-in-law, Joe Shepler, was injured. Mrs. Carlson remained overnight and Richard drove up to bring her home. Joe received a broken wrist, multiple cuts and bruises and a lacerated knee-cap. Last Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carlson attended the informal Open House honoring Harold Powers held at the American Legion Building in Midland. The retiree was honored for 35 years of Dow service. Mr. Powers is Julie Carlson Powers' father-in-law. It's been a busy July for the Carlsons.

Atkinson Reunion

The Atkinson family gathered together on Sunday, July 25 at Hartwick Pines, Grayling, for the 17th Annual Reunion.

The Pines were a splendid sight to some, as they walked the trails for the first time. 69 persons were present from Grayling, Essexville, Bay City, Midland, Harrison, Mt. Pleasant, Traverse City, Ohio and Indiana. Oldest member was Dick Woodbury, Midland. The youngest was Sarah Martin, Bay City. All family groups were photographed for Centennial Remembrance.

This family has its beginning from Sarah and Alexander Atkinson, long-time residents of Bay City. Karen and Karl Goinick, Clara and Robert Sorenson were on Committee for '76.

The Great North American Poodle Hunt

Grayling doesn't get many cowboys. About the closest we come is an occasional pickup with a gun rack and an N.R.A. sticker on the back window. After much searching, I think I have discovered one of the first cowboys in the Grayling area. Now, a cowboy to me, has to have some degree of native intelligence, a sense of place and also must have a bit of the philosopher in him. Music also has a lot to do with whether or not a man is a true cowboy or just a slicker with a pair of boots on. The music has to be gritty, not the studio-produced lavish strings of Glenn Campbell. This cowboy, Wahlie, by name, has a vast storehouse of

A registration fee is required with your application. three dollars for returning children and six dollars for new students. Your first month's tuition fee is due on or before the first day of school, September 13th. This fee is twelve dollars for three year olds and seventeen dollars for four year olds. Parents will be required to work one day each month as a teacher's assistant and will be asked to help with other obligations necessary to maintain the nursery facility. A qualified substitute could meet this requirement for you. If your child is three years old, he can benefit tremendously from an early nursery experience and because he may want to attend the four year old group next year, entering him now will guarantee him an opening as a returning four year old. ## Being North downright gritty music he listens to in the likes of Waylon Jennings, Willie Nelson and Jimmy Buffet.

BY MICHAEL DELP

Last week the cowboy and I were sitting around philosophizing and sipping a little liquid when we finally got around to the important decision of the evening. Being dog lovers, lovers of only the largest breeds, (imagine a cowboy driving down some back road with a chihuahua in his front seat) we set plans for the first Great North American Poodle Hunt. Being a non-violent soul, I volunteered to drive and said Wahlie could do the rest. We decided to head south to the suburbs, where we decided it would be easiest to lie in wait for large Cadillac outside shopping centers and beauty shops. Poodles are not easy critters to spot, but they do spend a lot of time yipping in cars and jumping around the windows.

At the close of the evening we had just about everything set for the expedition — food, clothing (we'd go disguised as insurance salesmen) and music (Jimmy Buffet and nothing else. Wahlie insisted on Merle Haggard, but I persisted against it, saying that if anyone saw a pickup with two men dressed as insurance salesmen sitting around listening to "Okie from Muskogee" the Great North American Poodle Hunt would be over real fast).

Well, he left in darkness. I felt a sense of awe as I watched a real cowboy fade into the night. As I walked back through my yard from the driveway, I could hear the strains of Jimmy Buffet grilling from his eight-track. I looked over my shoulder and saw his head framed by a gun rack and glimpsed an N.R.A. sticker on his cab window illuminated by his taillights. And by the faint grin on his face, reflected in his side mirror, you would have thought he was driving home to Keno Corners to watch a rodeo.

Vacation can bore many kids

A point about kids and summer which I've long suspected now has some solid academic backing.

According to Dr. Bradley Loomer, a professor of education at the University of Iowa, many school-aged children find the long summer away from school a downright bore.

Dr. Loomer suggests that most kids would rather be back in school because things aren't really that exciting around home and the good old neighborhood.

"The modern school has become so stimulating and interesting that summer can be a letdown to a child," the Iowa educator claims. "Most households are sterile as learning centers and kids don't get a chance to stretch mentally."

Although I might challenge the Loomer reasoning that what kids really miss is the stimulation and interest aroused in classroom learning, I would have to agree that sooner or later each summer, most kids tire of summer vacation before it ends.

Dr. Loomer claims 80 percent of American children enjoy school more than their parents did, and don't relish summer vacation as much; again, I might contend a bit about the levels cited by the good doctor, but the end I don't contest.

Vacation takes up about 25 percent of a child's learning years — 3 years out of 12 in local schools — so what the kids do with their summers is important. Of course, many things in addition to classroom experiences are important in the learning process, too. Such things as fishing, or swimming, or camping, or traveling, or playing baseball or tennis, or just goofing around with some good friends.

For Dr. Loomer's discontented kids, he claims "there's television and that's about it." In too many cases, I'm afraid he's absolutely right. Television is wonderful if taken in small doses, but can be quite stultifying if it becomes the entire diet. It doesn't have to be so, even in today's environment. For many, it is. That's the point of Dr. Loomer's concern, of course. And proper it is, too.

We note with some interest and satisfaction that the Michigan lottery has been extended for 4 more years. That was a good move by the Michigan Legislature.

The new extension runs until July 1, 1980; the original lottery law was enacted in 1972.

Lottery receipts now represent about 2 percent of the more than $3 billion in revenue that goes into the Michigan general fund each year. Those are important dollars, too.

Michigan has either been fortunate or far-sighted in establishing a lottery administration that has been above question. Under Lottery Czar Gus Harrison, the Michigan system has been a model for other states to envy or copy.

Last year the lottery generated about $64 million in revenue, which is more than $1 million a week. With the new instant games this year, revenues could double.

It's a fine record the Michigan lottery crew has established to maintain both order and respectability in an operation of that magnitude.

The presidential election draws even closer, so mark these words from Paul McCracken, University of Michigan economist and frequent government financial ace, in a recent speech:

"The year following a presidential election is the most important in the quadrennial cycle for major actions. Those elected have received a mandate.

"The next year all members of the House and one-third of the Senate face an off-year election.

"The third year is the year before the next presidential election — when many in the House and all in the Senate are running for President."

Who Can You Hate?

It's strange how memories are triggered. Last week I met Donald Crowder in downtown Detroit, in front of Hudson's. And I was reminded of William Grigsby who lived in Colorado 13 years ago. I don't even know if he is alive today.

There is no reason Donald Crowder's name should mean anything to you, although if you ever saw him making his pitch, you might never forget him.

On the other hand, William Grigsby makes a great trivia question. He made front pages all over the world in 1963. Can you remember why?

In 1963, Grigsby was a 47-year-old Denver janitor suffering from "incurable cancer" of the liver. Doctors had all but given up. As a last gasp effort, they decided to attempt an operation never before performed — a liver transplant.

The operation was a success. The healthy liver was taken from a man who had died from a brain tumor. He was white. William Grigsby was black.

Thus Grigsby became the first man to prove Carter's Little Liver Pills are integrated.

Grigsby's case raised some interesting questions 13 years ago. Unfortunately, the questions are still pertinent today.

Could it be possible that, aside from complexion, Negroes are constructed the same way as the wonderful white folks?

If a "white" liver will function in a black man, can the same be said for the brain, the lungs, the eyes, even the heart?

How many "white" organs could be sewn into a little black boy before his bus driver let him off at the wrong school?

Medical science has been making tremendous advances. The wise doctors are not only transplanting internal organs, they are also sewing on severed arms and legs. They shift skin with the ease of a blood transfusion. They borrow from here and from there and fashion new noses and ears and chins and you name it.

It is conceivable that, some day, a white man could be walking around with an Indian's heart, a Chinaman's lung and a Negro's leg. Would you want your sister to marry him?

Which brings us back to Donald Crowder, who is black and who has no legs.

Crowder is 25, a former construction worker. Over two years ago, doctors said he had a bone disease. "I can't spell it or pronounce it," he told me. "But I had it."

23 operations later, he had no legs. They were both amputated above the knee.

Now Crowder spends most of his days begging on the streets. He makes a grotesque sight, half a man lying face down on his litter cart, with his empty pant legs flapping behind him.

A crude sign, lettered on a hunk of cardboard, hangs from the front of Crowder's "bed". It says: "We are raising funds for artificial legs. Could you please donate?"

Crowder is usually pushed around town by his brother-in-law, Robert Willis. Sometimes they have to walk all the way from the Crowder home on Joseph Campau. Sometimes they get a ride. Willis helps Crowder beg, standing beside him and calling out to passers-by, almost like a sideshow barker.

Crowder said he takes in around $30 every day he is able to beg. Some days he is forced to stay home because of bed sores on his stumps. He figures the kind of artificial legs he needs will cost around $1,400.

I wonder why some government agency isn't buying legs for Crowder, but I didn't ask him. I didn't ask him if maybe he already had some artificial legs which he left home while he was out turning an easy buck.

Those are probably the questions I should have asked, but the truth is I'm not good at quizzing people with glaring handicaps. I choke on the hard questions and, to disguise my pity, I smile inanely when I feel like crying.

I can only report that Donald Crowder is a husky man, what is left of him, and he is strong. He proved it when he squeezed my hand in farewell. He said he wants a job, any kind of a job that can be done by a strong man with no legs. If you can help him, I can put you in touch.

In the meantime, I ponder this fantasy which reaches back to 1963 and William Grigsby and the first liver transplant. Donald Crowder probably won't live to see it, but the day will come when doctors will be able to paste humans together like paper dolls, a leg here and an arm there.

But if they do it without regard to race or religion, how is a guy going to know for sure who to hate?

Diane Marie Latuszek and Gary Michael Christensen were united in marriage by Father Thomas Neis at three o'clock in the afternoon on Saturday, June 19, at St. Mary's Church. About 250 guests were in attendance at the double ring ceremony.

Diane is the daughter of Mrs. Muriel Latuszek of Grayling and the late John Latuszek. Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Christensen of 377 Lange, Troy, Michigan.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Thomas Latuszek of Grayling. She wore an empire style gown of dotted Swiss with lace trim and a long tiered veil of bridal illusion which fell into a train. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white daisies.

Wheeler In Evacuation of Beirut

Navy Aviation Electronics Technician Airman Wayne D. Wheeler, 21, son of Herbert W. Wheeler of 406 Maple St., and Mrs. Lois E. Bendig of Route 1, all of Grayling, recently participated in the evacuation of civilians from Beirut, Lebanon, while serving as a crewmember of the aircraft carrier USS America.

His ship provided direct support during the evacuation of more than 270 civilian refugees from the beleaguered Lebanese capital. The civilians (men, women and children from 25 nations, including the United States, Canada and Britain) were ferried to the dock landing ship USS Spiegel Grove by landing craft and transported to Athens.

As part of a task force under the direction of Vice Admiral Frederick C. Turner, commander of the U.S. Sixth Fleet, Wheeler's ship was on station in the eastern Mediterranean for assistance.

His ship, homeported in Norfolk, Va., is currently deployed as a unit of the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

The American Quest

First came the convictions... solid rock-like convictions... about man and his rights... convictions about God and the gifts with which He generously blessed mankind. Then, came a search to implement these convictions: the result was our Declaration of Independence.

American liberty like America itself had its beginning in the quest for spiritual identity. In the wilderness itself the pilgrim fathers searched and labored to build a civilization based on their religious convictions. They probed their minds and hearts and discovered that they shared a common vision of "one nation under God." Again, the Declaration was the inspired result.

If our third century is to be one of "independence," like the two that have preceded it, all of us must continue this quest, and maintain this eternal vigilance of faith and religious commitment.

Halstead-Gault Wed in Nevada

Leslie Halstead and Sherry Gault were married at the "Little Church of the West" in Las Vegas, Nevada, on July 10. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wedell of Tempe, Arizona, and Leslie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Halstead of Grayling.

Mr. and Mrs. Wedell and Mr. and Mrs. Halstead flew to Las Vegas to attend the wedding. Following the ceremony the families enjoyed a lovely dinner at the Las Vegas Hilton Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Wedell returned to Arizona while the Halsteads accompanied the newlyweds to Los Angeles for a few days.

Leslie and Sherry reside at Malibu Beach, California, and he is employed as an engineer for the city of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Halstead returned to Grayling on July 14.

Area Fishing Report

(By Skip Madson)

This past week the place to fish Lake Trout seemed to be Petoskey around the Medusa Cement Plant. A #7 Johnson half and half trolled on the bottom with wire line was the answer.

This next week or two should bring some salmon activity in Platt Bay and Traverse Bay. I will try to get some more information on this next week. Also we can look for them on the Lake Huron side.

Try Manistee Lake in Kalamazoo County with minnows for Northern Pike and Walleyes.

Some good bass are coming from Lake Margrethe on plugs and crawlers, fishing the shoreline at night working very slowly.

Trout fishing has picked up somewhat, try the north branch near Lovells (reports are good coming from there). Also the south branch on Hoppers or midges. I'd like to try the East Branch with hoppers or a skunk this month. I wade upstream and fish upstream. Occasionally I pick up a nice brown or two but mostly it's good eating size brooks. Rainy days try a wet skunk or streamer.

Good Fishing, Skip

The Story of the Revolutionary War in the Old Northwest

By Gordon G. Reid

The British base at Detroit, shortly after Lt. Gov. Henry Hamilton left on his expedition to Vincennes, was filled with rumors about advancing American forces and fear of impending attack.

It was a secret to virtually no one that this key British post in the Old Northwest was inadequately fortified and that it would not be able to stand off much of an assault. Besides that, the redcoats were quite uncertain about the loyalty of their allies. After George Rogers Clark's successful campaign in the Illinois country, the Indians increasingly declared their intention to make peace with the Virginians. And in the event of any kind of showdown at Detroit, the French residents there were much less to be trusted than the Indians.

Hamilton, who had taken so many provisions along on the Vincennes campaign that there were now severe shortages at Detroit, left Captain Richard B. Lenoir in charge there. Well-liked by both the men of his command and the civilians at Detroit, Lenoir had served his country more than 30 years and was a capable leader. Hamilton had not been gone long before Lenoir convened his officers and worked out plans to improve the defense of Detroit. At that time there was a hill just to the north of the stockaded village, and it was evident that the cannons of an enemy army on this elevation would be able to easily subdue the British below. Lenoir realized that the hill must be controlled, so he decided to erect a new fort there and appointed Captain Henry Bird to design it and supervise its construction.

Following a staff meeting that same evening Bird staked out the outlines of a fort on the hill. "I at first intended only a square," Bird reported, "our time as we imagined being but short for fortifying ourselves, but when the square was marked out it appeared to me so naked and insufficient that I added the half bastions, imagining if the enemy approached before the curtains were completed we might make tolerable defense by closing the bastions at the gorge."

Construction of the fort, a portion of which was on the site of what is now the corner of Fort and Shelby streets in downtown Detroit, began in November of 1778. Work progressed rapidly during the winter with each able-bodied resident of the community being required to assist in the construction. The British at Detroit participated willingly in the project but the French residents of the village had to be pressured into helping.

In February, when Bird left to join an Indian raid in the Ohio country, Lt. Henry DuVernett took over the supervision of erection of the fort. A month later Lenoir received this taunting note from Clark: "I learn by your letter to Governor Hamilton that you were very busy making new works. I am glad to hear it as it saves the Americans some expenses in building."

But the rebel leader never was able to raise a sufficient army to attack the new fortification, let alone to capture it.

Completed in April, it was named Fort Lenoir and its bastions contained cannons taken from the old fort and from naval ships based at Detroit. Outside the 11-foot-high earthen ramparts was a ditch 12 feet wide with 12-foot-high palisades in the middle. Beyond this was a lower rampart of earth with pointed poles sticking out.

Inside were the barracks, storage facilities and other structures needed by the garrison. Besides the powder magazine within the walls of the fort, another one was built a few hundred feet to the south. Access to it was through a tunnel.

Thus, when Lenoir heard in July that Clark was on the way to Detroit with 1,400 colonial troops and 600 Frenchmen, the British were ready. But the rumor proved false and the attack didn't materialize.

Lady Golfers Entertained at Gaylord

(By Fay Bovee)
The Grayling Golf Auxiliary were guests of the Gaylord Auxiliary on Tuesday, July 27, at the Gaylord Country Club. After the usual nine holes of golf, a delightful lunch was served and prizes were awarded. Grayling ladies who came home with prizes were Mary Pettengill, low gross, 47; Eunice Slusser, low net, 32, and a door prize; Ruth Nielson, low putts, 13; Betty Layman, Carolyn Gerg, Mabel Gothro, door prizes, and Carole Gust, who had the best poker hand on her score card. About 31 ladies enjoyed the day which turned out to be perfect, weatherwise, that is.

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to extend my thanks to all my friends and relatives for the cards, flowers and gifts. Also to Dr. Rost, the nurses and all hospital attendants.

Bits O' Talk

by Fay Bovee
Mrs. Leta Babbitt has been spending some time in Grayling visiting friends and relatives and staying at Edgewater on the AuSable with the Bernard Fowlers. She is cooking at a Youth Camp in Boyne City. She has sold her Kalamazoo home and moved to Caledonia. For anyone wishing to drop her a line her address is Box 365, Caledonia, MI 49316.

Edith Bidvia of Detroit who was vacationing with the Cecil Speights developed pneumonia and had to be hospitalized. The Tom Robertsons are proud grandparents again. Edie and Sylvia Robertson of Calgary, Alberta, had a boy, which they named Nathan, on July 14. Mother and baby are doing fine.

Mrs. Gerald Krausz, of Portland, has been spending quite a lot of time here with her mother, Mrs. Tom Robertson, while Tom has been hospitalized. John Robertson of South Haven has also visited his parents as well as Rev. and Mrs. Joe Robertson of Chillicothe, Ohio.

Kid's Theatre Proves Success

By Michael Delp, Avalanche Staff Writer
What happens when you combine the boundless energy of nineteen kids with the seemingly inexhaustible vigor of Howard Taylor, Community School Director? One word to describe the result might be magic.

For the past six weeks, nineteen Grayling school children have been working four days a week, three hours a day with Howard Taylor to produce two fine children's plays, "The Lion Who Lost His Roar", and "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown". Both plays are especially suited for children as well as adults, and the performances come off as being delightful as well as professional.

One unique feature of the Kid's Theatre Program is that those children who are not performing one night in "Charlie Brown", are working behind the scenes in "The Lion Who Lost His Roar", so that all nineteen children have a chance to act as well as learn the basic aspects of theatre production such as lighting and make-up.

Judging from the audience response to both plays, the Kid's Theatre Program is an obvious success and a tribute to the efforts of everyone involved.

Cherry County Playhouse

The Cherry County Playhouse, Michigan's first star summer theatre, will be presenting Tommy Smothers in the comedy, "Play It Again Sam" from August 10 through 15. Mr. Smothers' appearance at CCF will mark the first time that he has performed in the legitimate theatre. For his theatrical debut, Tom Smothers has chosen to play the daydreaming, bumbling hero made famous by Woody Allen.

Tom Smothers and his brother Dick first came to public attention in 1966 when CBS-TV initiated the "Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" as a mid-season replacement. The show quickly evolved into the most controversial series on television. After running for three years and winning several awards, the "Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" was abruptly cancelled when Tom and Dick balked at CBS' insistence on censoring their "bawdy" topical satire.

Tom Smothers moved to the Cherry County Playhouse following a tour that had taken him to The Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas, Harrah's in Tahoe, the Playboy Club in Lake Geneva and the Ruyal York in Toronto. "Play It Again Sam" runs Tuesday through Friday at 8:00 p.m., Saturday at 8:00 and 9:05 p.m., Sunday at 7:30 p.m., and a Thursday Matinee at 2:00 p.m.

Dale Brooks Named Pro
At East Bay Racquet Club

A former college tennis coach and instructor has been named the tennis teaching professional for the East Bay Racquet Club under construction at Houghton Lake.

Dale Brooks, former instructor and coach at Fairbairn College, Richmond, Ind., will begin teaching tennis this summer on local courts. The new East Bay Racquet Club indoor courts will be completed this fall. A schedule of Brooks' courses, with times and dates will be released at a later date.

Brooks will teach classes for the beginner, intermediate, and advanced levels. Brooks is a member of the U.S. Tennis Association and a graduate of the Tennis University taught by Dennis VanDerBeek.

Brooks graduated in 1972 from Morehead College, W. Va., and received a masters degree from the University of Iowa in 1974 in physical education.

Brooks and his wife, Jennifer, and two-month-old son, Ryan, recently purchased a home in a new development on the north shore of Lake Michigan. They will be moving to the area in a few days.

Editor's Mailbox

To the Editor:

As concerned parents and taxpayers, we would like to urge all concerned citizens of the Grayling-Aviation School District to vote on the proposed millage for the schools on August 16th.

We don't expect our children to receive an education when they will only attend school for 20 years a day. Also, our children will be left with a debt of $100,000 to $200,000. There is no way they can pay such large classes and expect our children to come out.

If there are people who have a problem with the administration of the school district, they should try to get them out of the education they deserve. The "buck" can be dealt with after the school district has been elected in September.

Sincerely,

Phil and Donna Clark

ARIES
Mar. 21-Apr. 19

It's the same old refrain that has to do with your mate or similar alliance — not understanding you.

TAURUS
Apr. 20-May 20

Many under your sign are due for a dental or physical check-up. Most important, if you seek any advice today — make certain it's professional.

GEMINI
May 21-June 20

Stellar patterns suggest that you take a new look at a long term project — that's been shelved. There's high probability that you'll receive a winner.

MOONCHILD
June 21-July 22

Soft lights and sweet music should bring back memories of the long, long ago. You're doing to take a trip down memory lane.

LEO
July 23-Aug. 22

Whatever you do, don't pin down a member of the opposite sex with the story of your life — silence this day — golden.

An associate with motives that are well-questionable has you lined up as a soft touch — you'll know how to handle the situation.

LIBRA
Sept. 23-Oct. 22

There seems to be a conflict about what you must do at your home base — and a few outside obligations that have become time-consuming.

SCORPIO
Oct. 23-Nov. 21

Don't worry about impressing an associate. As a matter of fact, no matter what you do — it won't be appreciated.

SAGITTARIUS

The Citizens Advisory Action Council met at Camp Shawono on July 7th. The members of the Camp Council gave a report on the Summer Activities weekend held over the July 4th weekend. Dorm 4 took first prize and all activities were enjoyed by the campers. Some of the events held: canoe knock-out, greased watermelon, log rolling contest and swimming races.

Chairperson Cathy Kraus announced that Probate Judge Emil Kraus had agreed to be the guest speaker at the quarterly awards banquet to be held on July 11th.

The June monthly statistical report was given by Mr. Hazen showing 14 boys admitted to camp, 5 released, 3 transferred to another program, 13 truanties, 7 home visits and average length of stay for boys released in June was 6 months. He also gave statistics on success ratios of boys released from the camp program.

Mrs. Helen Moon, Director of the R.S.V.P. and 7 volunteers working with the boys at camp were in attendance for a discussion on the success of the volunteer program. This program was started by the C.A.A.C. a year ago and has proven highly successful from both the campers and camp administrators viewpoint, especially in the G.E.D. preparation program. Boys passing their G.E.D. tests have increased by about 300% since the volunteer program started. Everyone expressed their views and thoughts for improvement. Both the C.A.A.C. and R.S.V.P. members plan on a future meeting to resolve some problems that have arisen.

The next meeting of the C.A.A.C. will be held at Camp Shawono on August 4th at 6:30 p.m.

Can you really improve your gas mileage?

You sure can, if you'll follow these economy tips from NAPA.

Avoid fast starts.

Acceleration should be neither too fast nor too slow.

Drive smoothly.

Watch the traffic to avoid sudden stops or sudden bursts of power.

Drive a little slower.

The difference in travel time between 50 and 65 is very little. But, the difference in gas mileage is a lot.

Stay tuned.

A properly tuned car will get up to 10% better mileage than a poorly tuned car. It will also create less pollution.

Stay safe.

Have your car inspected regularly for worn or damaged parts. Getting there economically is important. But, getting there safely is more important.

Editor's Mailbox

Local 1903, UAW

July 22, 1976

Mr. Madsen, Editor

Dear Sir:

Can our community that consists of less than seven thousand persons withstand the strain of the dispute between Who? Bear Archery management? Victor Comptometer? Bear Archery employees? families? friends? local law enforcement? court systems? unions?

We are basically good and proud people who know the advantages of having privacy, being able to roam about with safety, enjoy family recreation activities within short distances, and a small town claim to outspokenness with business, law enforcement, and personal disagreements with the knowledge that it is most times with a life-long friend or a relative and hopefully will not carry any animosity when it is over.

But I am concerned now with what I see in our community faces. Please take a look around to what I am referring to, in all of us. Hatred, insolence, arrogance, stubbornness, bewilderment, aloofness, despair, and much more.

You may say that this started with the strike. We want our Democratic rights, voted on and won, and being denied. We want our jobs back and are being reminded every day of not having them by remarks such as, why don't we find a job somewhere else, or a smirk from someone who must not understand the enormity of what they are doing. I ask, why don't they find a job somewhere else and then the management would have to settle this dispute with the people that helped make Bear Archery what it is today, and to whom the management owes something to.

If unions are so intolerable, why is it that law enforcement, school teaching staffs, county employees and many other businesses are unionized? What I wonder is the real reason why Bear Archery does not want the Union.

Most of the community is asking if this will be the same town when the strike is over. I think now, if the strike is left to go on indefinitely.

Some of us have found a new awareness in the operation of our community, becoming involved in government and striving for a change when it is needed. But let's not forget that we are all part of this community and its problems and we should not let "influential influence" dictate our thoughts and decisions.

It was once insinuated that UAW Local 1903 had a "rule or ruin" attitude toward management. On the contrary, we want the Company to stay in Grayling and prosper probably more than anyone else. We honestly feel that our Union and the Management at Bear Archery can accomplish this together.

If anything it appears the "rule or ruin" attitude is being directed toward us, the striking employees.

Sincerely,
Helen Crawford

Regatta a Huge Success

(By George Pamerleau)

Approximately 50 water craft participated last Sunday evening in the first of what promises to be one of the most popular annual events in the Grayling area.

It was a very beautiful sight as viewed from McIntyre's Landing to watch the boat craft line up the various participants and proceed around the perimeter of Lake Margrethe under a clear but cold sky.

The spectators crowded the shoreline at several vantage points to witness this spectacular event.

"jet" guns. This is a very fast inoculation method and is virtually painless.

Tentatively, this immunization activity is scheduled to take place in Crawford County between October 4th and 18th, at evening and weekend clinics.

It will require a great number of volunteers to assist the State Health Staff people. Each person will be interviewed, have the program explained, and sign a consent agreement before being immunized. Preliminary planning indicates that at least 12 volunteers will be needed per shift in this mass inoculation program. Red Cross sincerely hopes that all the community's service organizations and Church auxiliaries will rally to help, as currently there are nowhere near enough regular Red Cross Volunteers to man this activity.

At the present time there are no plans to inoculate individuals under 25 years of age, unless they fall in the High Risk category. Also there are no plans currently to immunize school children in schools.

The President of the United States has charged American National Red Cross with the responsibility of coordinating this National Immunization Program throughout our country. Crawford County Chapter/ANRC accepts this responsibility for our County, but realizes it will have to have the help and support of all the service groups in the community if this immunization activity is to be accomplished effectively.

Any person or any organization that can and will help, please call 348-9606.

Tax Tribunal

road of loss of local government. The majority of those who spoke indicated they wished to retain local control of the property tax structure. I am sure the Task Force members at the hearing heard that message. I can assure you there are very powerful political forces working behind the scenes to perpetuate and add to the governmental agencies in our property tax system.

Plans and work are progressing on the new Grayling Township Refuse Transfer Station. Only one bid was received for construction of a service road and sand-fill with seeding and mulching. This bid of Jack Millikin, Inc. was accepted on July 8th and a contract covering the work was signed. No bids were received for the fencing. Since that date my office has made direct contact with a number of fence companies. The Township Board met on July 26th and reviewed the fence bids. No bids were received from two local contractors who were contacted for fencing. The bid of Perfect Fence Company of Traverse City was accepted. Work on the fence should begin this week.

With the continuing problems at the present green box sites the township is planning to open the new site using green boxes as soon as the fencing is complete. This use will be only on a temporary basis until the compactor unit is in operation. Use of the site will be on a scheduled basis with an attendant on duty during all open hours. A fee schedule will be developed to offset costs of operation.

The facility being constructed is patterned after the Peninsula Township facility in Grand Traverse County. Their operation has proven very successful. I have visited their site and can see no way such a facility will create problems unless it is with people leaving refuse at the gate.

On Friday, July 23rd I attended a meeting of the State Resource Recovery Commission in Gaylord. I was pleased to hear one member of the commission acknowledge that what will work in Detroit and the metropolitan areas may not work in Northern Michigan. Too often in the past Northern Michigan has been saddled with rules and laws developed for the Detroit area that just do not work here.

I have been pleased with the response I have received from these articles. I will continue to try and keep the people informed on local government and issues of general concern.
